The Fountain of Youth

Pure White Montmorillonite from the Nevalite Mine, is extracted the old fashioned way, by hand. It is milled via a process of particle separation which removes only the large particles of lava rock and ancient root matter creating what we believe is the purest source of Pure White Montmorillonite high energy crystal powder available in the U.S. today.

This extraordinary healing powdered crystal provides an all natural source of relief and cosmetic care to the consumer.

White Montmorillonite, often mistakenly referred to as Bentonite, is an extraordinary crystal clay that for thousandds of years has provided healing and relief to indigenous peoples around the globe. Its revival is a testament to those seeking all natural beauty products and holistic cures.
